Letter from George C. Round

Mr. Geo. C. Round, of Prince William county, was expected to address the anti Mahene meeting of this city on Tuesday night last, but was unavoidably prevented from doing so. He sent the following letter: MANASSAS, Va., Oct. 21, 1889.

Geo. W. Fremont, and others, Alexandria Va Geo. W. Fremont, and others, Alexandria, Va:

I thank you for your invitation to address the anti-Mahone republicans of Alexandria and I regret that I cannot do so. I rejoice that there are republicans in Virginia, both of your race and my own, that will stand by the clearly expressed declarations of the Chicago convention, even against Quay and his committee, Harrison and his offices, and Mahone and his money. It gives me new hope for the fortune of true republicanism in Virginia.

The first time that I entered Alexandria was in 1861, as a private soldier of the army of the Union, which was fighting for the freedom of your race. William Mahone, the bogus republican, who now poses as your friend, was then fighting for your enlayement. In 1871 I was a member of the republican Senstorial convention, which met in Alexandria and nominated Edward Daniels and Westel Willoughby, who like all other original republicans who fought your battles in those early days, are now with you against Mahone At that convention, as chairman of the committee on resolutions I wrete and secured the adoption of a platwrote and secured the adoption of a plat-form which as far as I know was the first re form which as far as I know was the first republican platform declaring in favor of "amnesty," for all who had fought against us. At that time and for several years thereafter, Mahone was busy concooling "tissue ballots" and the "Petersburg charter," by which he proposed to take away from you the franchises of freedom.

The same platform was I am sure the first one of any party to favor the overthrow of the funding bill which had just become a law. At that time Mahone and his friend Walker were speculating in Virginia bonds and supporting a policy tending to break clare in favor of repudiation.

When the readjuster party was formally organized at Mczart Hall I made the first speech in Alexandria in defence of its prin-ciples. At that time the Hayes administra tion was breathing out slaughter against those republicans who dared to support readjustment. But this did not prevent the success of the cause. I have lived to see readjustment endorsed by both the republican and democratic parties; and I have ived to see William Mahone make another somersault, and go over again to the side of the bondholders, in order as his friends declare to get money for use in the pending canvass. I expect to see the time when Harrison's support of "bogus republicanism" in Virginia will be as widely condemned as Hayes's support of "funderism."

It is notorious that all parties at times become corrupt and fall into the hands of un scrupulous leaders. The liberal-readingter movement in Virginia was no exception and it has thoroughly come under the domi-nation of that most illiberal of all men, William Mahone.

Some of the republicans of this part of the State profess to condemn me because, as they say, I led them over to Mahone and now they claim I am trying to lead them away from Mahone. In other words they thick that Mahone is all there is of republicanism. And I confess there are some things that look very much like it. But the truth is that I led them to the liberal readjuster party at a time when Mahone was but one man in it. As soon as his "bossism" began to develop I began to protest. Now that the entire purposes of the organization are being subverted, who is more strongly bound than I to lead them out? If I induced you and others to enter as seamen on the good old ship "Republican" and find that while I have been asleep a piratical crew has seized it and is running up the black flag, whose duty more than mine to raise the alarm and help you throw the pirate chieftain overboard?

Mahone is not the republican party. He is not even the nominee of the republican they invite the attention of the trade.

Orders from the country for merchandise shall receive prompt attention.

Consignments of Florr, Grain and Country Produce solicited, for which they guarantee the highest market prices and prompt returns.

Northeast corner of Cameron and Royal streets and Examples and Examples

It has been my fate to have been an original republican, an original readjuster and an original kicker. It is somewhat discourag-ing in the beginning, but as the "whirliging of time" rolls on and brings thousands and tens of thousands up to the standard I planted against Mahone in 1882, I feel that it is an honor to have defied Mahone when he was entrenched in the Senate of the United States and had at his back the mighty Arthur and his administration.

When I see colored men like you and white men like Heermans flinging back Ma hone's offices in his face, when I see old line republicans and old line readjusters coming into line to save the State from cor-ruption, chicanery and fraud; when I read in history and revelation that God reigns. I believe that the time is at hand for our de-believe that the time is at hand for our deliverance.

Be not frightened if you are called "assistant democrats." If my house is on fire I will not stop to quarrel with the engineer of the fire department, even though he be a democrat. I will run and work with Captain McKinney's machine if it is first on the ground rather than see my house and my household go to destruction. If a tiger is upon me I will welcome even the aid of a bourbon if he is powerful enough to cope with the moester. If a rattlesnake is in my bed I shall strike him as hard as I can.

Hence as a vote for McKinney will hit a blow twice as hard as no vote at all, I shall vote for McKinney. I shall not vote for him because be is a democrat, but in spite of it. Roll up his majority so big that Harrison can see it ceming and that the world shall say "the republicans did it."

the funding bill which had just become a law. At that time Mahone and his friend Walker were speculating in Virginia bonds and supporting a policy tending to break down your public schools!

After Mahone and his ring had unloaded their Virginia bonds at a good profit, this man who in this year of grace, 1889, becomes the very pink of honesty and debt-paying, suddenly wheeled around and fell into the readjuster movement which we started at Alexandria and which was subsequently organized at Richmond in 1874, by John E. Massey and Abram Fulkerson. And this very man Mahone declared in my presence in Alexandria that the only mistake the readjusters made was that they did not declare in favor of repudiation.
